Commercial Heating Services

Microfix Services is an independent specialist in the provision of industrial and commercial heating systems. We offer the following services as part of a package: -

- consultation
- design
- supply
- installation
- Commissioning
- maintenance

We have a wealth of experience of providing practical and energy efficient commercial heating solutions. From warehouse heating, factory heating, office heating and production areas of all kinds.

We can also provide

- complete site de-centralisation systems
- warm air heating systems
- plaque or radiant heating type systems (gas, oil, electric, hot water or steam)

All systems designed with energy efficiency in mind and we ensure all installations are carried out within the government ECA scheme (see www.eca.gov.uk)

Maintenance and support

We offer a dedicated after sales support service. We make sure you receive the highest level of maintenance and emergency support. Having pre-planned maintenance in place ensures that your systems run at optimum efficiency and avoid costly and inconvenient breakdowns.
